Managing Information, Technology and Projects

Mount St. Joseph University School of Business
Pre-Assignments

Course Number: MGT 620-CV S420
Credit Hours: 3

Instructor Name: Kim Hunter, MBA

Telephone: 513-244-4248

E-mail address: kim.hunter@msj.edu

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course addresses significant concepts and issues related to managing information, technology, and projects from both strategic and tactical perspectives. Emphasis is given to addressing challenges associated with the evaluation, selection, implementation, and management of information and technology related systems that serve to increase an organization's efficiency and competitive advantage. This course has a significant emphasis on effective project management practices.

MGT 620: Pre-Assignments
(Due on 6/1/20 @ 5:00 pm)
All assignments are due prior to 5:00 pm on the day of class and are to be submitted electronically via Blackboard. All assignments for this course will be available in Blackboard.

- Order your textbooks!
- Read the first chapter of Managing & Using Information Systems: A Strategic Approach (6th ed.) (Pearlson, Saunders & Galletta).
- Review case study 1-2 (Google) on pp. 31 and prepare to discussion questions on pp. 32.
- Take the online quiz for Chapter 1.
- Submit your current and up-to-date resume on Blackboard.

Required Textbooks
Managing & Using Information Systems: A Strategic Approach
(6th ed.) NJ: John Wiley & Sons
Pearlson, Keri E., Saunders, Carol S., and Galletta, Dennis F. (2016)
Paper Textbook ISBN: 978-1-119-24428-8

Why New Systems Fail: An insider's guide to successful IT projects
Revised edition Course Technology Cengage Learning
Simon, P. ISBN-13: 978-1435456440 ISBN-10: 1435456440